Columbus, with her immense concrete Storage Dam—built across the Scioto River—establishing a great reservoir, or lake, of over seven miles in length—is assured of a water supply, in quantity, meeting any and all possible contingencies for generations to come; while a "Purification and Softening Plant," in connection therewith, guarantees that the water, so supplied, will, in its purity, be healthful to drink; and, in its softness, "a thing of joy forever" to the Bath, the Laundry, and the tubes of the Boilers. These improvements cost $1,500,000.

Columbus stands at the very threshold of Ohio's great coal fields—knowing nothing of the troubles associating themselves with coal famine and its attending high prices, Fuel is cheap in Columbus.

Columbus is the greatest distributing center for tropical fruits, and hot-house vegetables, in the State of Ohio.

Columbus' Freight Depots are centrally located and grouped in such way as to be conveniently accessible to shippers. The level surface of the streets, ia s constant source of saving to the Manufacturer or Merchant in the item of drayage, alone.

Columbus has come to be, pre-eminently. the most important importing and breeding center for high-class French and German Horses in America.

Columbus is accepted as a most strategic point for the Wholesaler, in all lines; and the business is growing enormously, from year to year.

Columbus' main business thoroughfares are lighted by a system of Electric Arches—spanning the streets. The effect at night is beautiful in the extreme, and must be seen to be appreciated.

Columbus offers four things to all those who may locate within her limits:— Great opportunities for a business success; a healthful climate; a law-abiding and kindly community; and rare privileges for those seeking educational advantages.
